

NATHANIEL  MORAN
REPRESENTING TEXAS' FIRST DISTRICT

NATHANIEL MORAN
REPRESENTING TEXAS' FIRST DISTRICT

Congressman Nathaniel Moran proudly serves the First District of Texas in the U.S. House of Representatives. He attended West Point, then Texas Tech, where he earned a BA, MBA, and law degree.

Congressman Moran began his elected public service on the Tyler City Council. In 2016, he became Smith County Judge, a role he continued in until his election to Congress in 2022. Congressman Moran serves on the Ways and Means Committee, the oldest Committee in Congress and chief taxwriting Committee in the House. He also serves on the China Select Committee, tasked with assessing threats to the U.S. from the Chinese Communist Party. In addition, Congressman Moran was one of only five Republicans appointed to the Ethics Committee, the body which upholds the House Code of Official Conduct.

He resides in Whitehouse with his wife of 25 years, Kyna, and their four children.